In America, we are lucky to have folktales from around the world. As people come here to live, they bring stories they have heard and shared before. These stories tell about life and nature. African Americans have a wealth of folklore from Africa to share with their families and others. Some also share stories from their history as slaves and free people in America. As most slaves could not read or write, they told tales of Africa as well as new stories of life as experienced here.

Many of these stories have been collected and written down. The tales in children's story books are beautifully illustrated for all to enjoy. Ask a librarian for help in finding some of these folktales... you'll be glad you did!

Many parents and grandparents tell folktales to the children in their family. Storytellers spin them for listeners of all ages. A folktale may have:

- _____ solved
- _____ of things that are hard to understand
- _____ for an unkind person
- _____ learned
- a _____ for a good person
- _____ who can overcome anything
- _____ spells
- _____ animals

Folktales often use animals to make a point. The animals are used to show what people are like or how they behave.

magical heroes
reward
explanations punishment
problems
talking lessons

A cat may be sneaky.
A dog may be too trusting and get tricked.
Which animals may be used to stand for these traits?

1. stubborn, fearful
2. misleading, gets others to do what he wants
3. timid, loyal
4. playful, clever
5. wise, brave
6. tricky, greedy, lazy
7. proud, cruel
8. sneaky, clever
9. honorable, swift
10. patient, plotting

Which Folktale?

1. This folktale explains why an insect does what it does! Study the pictures and letters to help you fill in the title.
