

Don't trash; recycle campaign signs Moore: Suburban sprawl is real

With the primary election now over, Orange County encourages residents to recycle campaign signs instead of throwing them in the trash.

In partnership with the City of Winter Park, the City of Orlando and the League of Women Voters, Orange County will collect campaign signs so they can be used as a cleaner energy source.

"The intent is to not send these single use signs off to the landfill," said Aimee Krivan, Pollution Prevention Program Coordinator with the County's Environmental Protection Division. "We have found a way for these signs to have a second life."

The signs are sent to NuCycle where they are converted into Enviro-Fuel-cubes® used by the cement and electrical power industries to replace coal. In 2022, the program's first year, it diverted 11,140 pounds in campaign signs from the landfill.

Wood and metal frames must be removed from signs before donating. Donations can be made from August 21 through September 1 at the following locations: Broadway United Methodist Church, 406 E. Amelia St., Orlando, FL 32803; First ures. We are doing what we can in Lockhart and waiting for Vision 2050 to pass and funding to come to improve Edgewater Drive.

Unitarian Church, 1901 E. Robinson St., Orlando, FL 32803; Solid Waste Management, 1028 Woods Avenue, Orlando, FL 32805; Porter Transfer Station, 1326 Good Homes Rd., Orlando, FL 32818; Cady Way Pool, 2529 Cady Way, Winter Park, FL 32792; Mead Botanical Garden, 1310 S. Denning Dr., Winter Park, FL 32789; Winter Park Fire Department - Station 64, 1439 Howell Branch Rd, Winter Park, FL 32789.

The Pine Hills section of District 2 was developed during the suburban sprawl and automobile era. A vibrant, dense downtown does not exist. Most of the workers must travel too far to job markets. Richard Florida talks about the younger generation wanting to ditch the cars and big houses and reside in more creative communities. On a positive note, the Lynx Superstop is being rebuilt, the Pine Hills Trail expanded, downtown design features added, and my People of Clarcona-Ocoee group is painting a mural with artist

Delia Miller this Saturday at the Rebel Gas Station at the corner of Pine Hills and Clarcona-Ocoee roads. We are working towards a better Pine Hills.

As for Apopka, I hear many residents angry with the suburban sprawl and lack of infrastructure. It is unfortunate that big box stores, large scale farming in Central and South America, and the buy-out of Lake Apopka farms drastically changed the farming economics. Yet, Florida says this is the opportunity for a great reset. Apopka can become much more than a bedroom community for Orlando. Richard Florida has many ideas and methodologies to make this possible. I hope you read one of his books.

We are all part of a large mega-economy of Central Florida. The possibilities for success economically and preserving our environmental treasures are endless. We can offer a much better way of life while contributing meaningfully to the productivity and prosperity of the economy. Florida mentions the reset from 2010 as our opportunity for higher education "sparking" the creation of the modern research-intensive university. Ah, we could benefit from thinking this through.

Yet too many times we sit back and let all the innovation locate in East Orange County, or the new chip industry and unmanned vehicles locate in Osceola County. We must do more than simply fill up large warehouses along Lake Apopka. We must innovate.

tial incentives of $10,800 and most recently, we worked with their union to secure an additional $8,000 annual bonus paid quarterly for the next two years.

It's this last new $16,000/two-year bonus that seems to be making an impact.

The district holds job fairs just about every two weeks but even with all of this, the applicants just haven't shown up. In the past, we were lucky to have five or six applicants attend the fairs.

Yet, this past Monday, at the district's most recent transportation fair, 140 applicants showed up after all the news coverage the previous week about the shortage and the new bonus system.

I remain hopeful that all these strategies will make a difference but it is going to take time and we will have to keep being creative to make up for the lack of funding we have available, which is always the bottom line concern. I tell you all of this because I ask for grace and creativity. Grace with the delays as many of our drivers have to do double pickups to each school because of the shortage. This causes considerable delays and extra early pickups.

Creativity in helping us where you can will be appreciated. If you can drive your child to school, please do. This allows the valuable seats to be used for children who have no other way to get to school. Work with neighbors and friends to create carpools or create group walking or biking clubs. Work with your school's PTA to help organize neighborhood carpools.

I know this is incredibly frustrating and burdensome on families, students and staff. It's frustrating for me as well because I want nothing more than to ensure kids can get to school quickly and on time without issue so they can learn and be successful.

I will continue to work with district staff to look for solutions and I will also continue to reach out to our state legislators advocating for proper funding so we can compete for drivers. I encourage you to do the same.

Most of all, get the word out that we are hiring and encourage people you know to join our team.

or competition increases your desire to excel? Our education system has its sight: set on dumbing down America. If you don't believe that, ask your daughter, or son anything you remember from your 6th or 7th grade classes pertaining to history, American or World.

When my mom took me into town to shop for the month, we used to go to A&P, and after checking out three or four baskets full, she would tear off the bottom of the receipt (the total cost), hand it to me and ask me to total it, in my head.

I thought that was cruel and unusual punishment, but Mom would laugh and make a game out of it, and before long I became proficient in using my head as something more than a hat rack. To my shame, I do not incorporate those kinds of learning exercises into teaching my kids. When we depend on our education system and do not take part, we throw our children to the wolves of the world. They are more than willing to teach their way of dealing with the world's ills, and it is absolutely demented.

The groundwork for our children to be radicalized has been laid. Our colleges are full of Socialists, Communists, and Globalists that have been taught by those same people that were students in the 70s and 80s.

Do you remember? It was a time of "me-ism's." Everything had to do with "me first." We started using words like self-awareness, self-esteem, self-assertion, self-denial, self-love, and self-care, and no one could tell them that it was a lonely, lonely world when you are the only one there. Those same people are teaching in our colleges now.

The school attitude of most students now is, let me get by, by the skin of my teeth, and I will be free! When the goal is getting through, rather than getting educated to better the world, we are in trouble.

Those out to destroy America and our sovereignty are not sitting around talking, they are actively taking part in everything as planned by George Soros, the Open Society Foundation, the Globalists, and this administration.

What is amazing to me is, we have men and women willing to cross the ocean to fight and die for the freedoms we hold dear, and then there are those who will not cross the street to vote!

It is your turn to show the world. GET UP, OUT and VOTE!!

County: Expansion cost $5 million, comes from federal funds

Spectrum, Orange County installed underground fiber optic cables, giving residents access to high speed internet.

Demings also announced that through a partnership with the Aeras Foundation, wifi enabled digital devices are available to be loaned to qualified residents. Aeras works with community organizations and has already distributed more than 700 devices to residents.

“Overall, Orange County is addressing needs related to access and affordability. We are working to ensure that no one is left behind. We want to achieve digital equity so that all residents in Orange County can be fully connected,” Demings said.

These projects reflect a cost of over $5 million. The money is coming from the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021, which designated more than $25 billion to be invested in affordable high-speed internet and connectivity across the United States.

Among the people Demings recognized for their efforts in seeing the broadband project come to fruition were Simone Bath, Orange County chief innovation and emerging technology officer; and Emily Bonilla, Orange County District 5 commissioner who represents areas including Bithlo/Christmas.

Bonilla explained the firsthand inconvenience of lacking broadband access to her home, so much so that she ensured the county would overcome this problem once she was first elected county commissioner in 2016.

“I am so happy to say that I now have a thousand megabytes per second in my internet,” Bonilla said. “It is just the best. I am now in the future. We finally caught up to technology and it’s just been great. You don’t hear anymore anyone yelling ‘Who’s using the internet?’”

South Apopka is not really rural like District 5, but it’s an underserved area, said District 2 Commissioner Christine Moore, who represents South Apopka. She pointed out that South Apopka first got paved roads when Linda Chapin was Orange County chair.

“We have a lot of new housing coming along and it’s hard to imagine that I had pockets of my district that didn’t have wifi, but think for a moment – you heard a little bit from Commissioner Bonilla – but think about students who had to head up to an area, the coffee shop at McDonald’s, just hunting for wifi. Yet those are the same families that are transportation challenged. They certainly were at a deficit compared to any other,” Moore said.

The broadband project was actually completed ahead of deadline. The state government affairs for Charter Communications took the challenge to get the project done by March 2025, said Marva Johnson, group vice president, State Government Affairs for Charter Communications.

“This county understood how important making sure that every citizen had access to the same essential services would be.

You made the commitment to make that investment and partner with the public private sector partner to deliver it. So we’re very honored to be your partner in that effort and we’re very excited about this important step in closing a digital divide,” Johnson said.

Residents affected by the completion of this project are directed to visit spectrum.com or call (855) 860-9068 to become a new customer or upgrade their service. In addition to being newly connected, residents may qualify for special pricing.

FWC issues School Fishing Club Grant to 50 schools

Hello Folks,

I hope everyone had a great weekend and you got a chance to enjoy the Blue Full Moon we had at the first of the week. I walked outside and enjoyed how bright the moon was and how big it seemed. According to NASA, the blue moon is closer to the Earth, and so it looks bigger and seems brighter. Anyway, the fishin' is still slow for most folks.

Kyle at Bitter's Bait & Tackle reports that not too many folks are gettin' on the water and goin' fishin'. The panfish have slowed way down in most of the lakes. I do see some nice stringers of shellcrackers bein' caught in some of the local lakes in our area. Most of those shellcrackers are bein' caught on grass-shrimp, and a few are bein' caught on red-worms.

The bass fishin' on the Kissimmee Chain has been pretty good as of late. X-Treme Bass Series held a tournament on the chain last weekend. The team of Andrew Hall and Kyle Brewer grabbed the win at the Lake Toho Division. They weighed in 5 bass that hit the scales at 29.20 pounds. Kyle Brewer caught the biggest bass of the day with a 6.34 pounder. You know what they say an ounce of water makes a difference – how about 1/100th of an ounce of water. Kyle's big bass was 1/100th of an ounce bigger than the next biggest bass caught that day. Kyle's bass weighed in at 6.34 pounds, and the next big bass weighed in at 6.33 pounds. Folks that's as close as it can be and I'm sure the guy that caught the 2nd biggest bass was heart-broken. I know I would have been.

Jim Keck
Goin' Fishin'

The bass fishin' on Johns Lake has been a little slow since FWC sprayed the lake. Last Wednesday night, the team of John Brazzell and Mike Bruton won the tournament with 3 bass that hit the scales at 9.80 pounds. John and Mike also had big bass of the tournament which weighed 3.55 pounds.

I also want to mention that the FWC has issued a School Fishing Club Grant to 50 schools for the upcoming school year. Each school was awarded a $500-grant for this school year. The money will help with the club expass turned into a school record 99-yard reception and touchdown.

"The focus was much more on what we practiced after the interception and touchdown. Of course, teams tend to be much less tense and think about how to win instead of avoid losing when holding a lead too. There wasn't a sense of giving up or the sky is falling because clicking as a team didn't start right away."

Another two points were added at the end of the Titans' next possession as the high snap also traveled through the end zone.

Wekiva's other scores came on touchdowns, a seven-yard rush from Isaiah McNish, a 19-yard Jackson Keillor to Naeem Woullard pass and a blocked punt, recovered in the end zone.

The touchdowns were scored with 2:35 of the first quarter, 2:15 of the second and 10 seconds remaining in the contest, respectively.

Only one possession ended with the Titans gaining more than one first down and 15 yards. Olympia moved the ball from its 35 yard line to Wekiva's 1-yard line on the first possession of the second half. The ball was turned over on downs though. Will Wankelman's arching into the left back corner of the end zone pass was caught out of bounds.

Not counting the first drive of the second half, the Titans gained 49 yards on 28 plays. Wekiva also nant their passing game is, you'd think Tampa would have no run game, or at least a subpar one, but they put up 175 rushing yards and four rushing touchdowns on Apopka's young defense. To put it into perspective, Apopka is a run-first team that runs 80 percent of the time and the Blue Darters only collected 195 rushing yards.

The first quarter was relatively quiet with both teams poking and prodding at each other trying to figure out where their weakness was. Apopka's first drive was a three-and-out followed by a six-play touchdown drive from Tampa to open the game.

After getting another opportunity with the ball, Apopka once again went three and out turning the ball over after losing yards to penalties and a sack on quarterback Tyson Davison. But this time, Apopka was able to stop Tampa in its tracks and forced them to punt it right back.

But again, Apopka's offense could not find any space to set up the run or pass game. Apopka gained just seven yards and was forced to punt facing a fourth and three.

Before the end of the first quarter, Tampa had the ball again starting on their 11-yard line. They decided to go with the run but were stuffed on first down. But, on second down they found a little room with a quick pass to a receiver at the line who beat one Apopka defender near the sideline for a first down.
